I wonder what would happen if everyone on all flights traveling home from DC decided to de-mask close to half way through your flights home? Pedes have a unique situation with our concentrated numbers on these flights. Claim your freedom to breath fresh bacteria free oxygen. Well, as bacteria free as it can get in the the Tube of Oppression's recycled air anyway. You may get "blacklisted" from future flights (on that airline). Jet may get diverted and leave you somewhere other than your destination. Many possible outcomes but whatever they decide to do, it will be against a extremely big group of people. Immediate class action can be initiated if needed. Plus, a lot of attention would be brought to the issue. Just think if millions of people all did this on all the returning flights from DC. Mass mask protest to the 1,000,000th power. Gloriously high energy would be unleashed.

They would land the plane, literally. They've done it before. Not advised, Jan 6 is too important.

VA has been adopting CA-like gun laws recently. That being said guns and other arms are legal everywhere in the US, as the constitution is the supreme law of the land.

Same from Rubio. “Election integrity is the utmost importance for our democracy” but he won’t do shit. Also asks for money in the same letter. 90% of our “elected” officials have lived so long in the swamp they don’t even realize the cringe that falls out of their mouth.

Happens often. Has to do with landscape and portrait mode shenanigans. Imgur should detect and auto fix it on upload. Then you can save it and not use a cucked image host after. If the devs here want to look into it there's plenty of open source code out there to work from
